This CPD programme has been designed with all Newly Qualified Teachers (NQT) in mind. This course has been created to provide comprehensive learning opportunities and a high level of support to colleagues in their first year of teaching (following completion and passing of an ITT course).

Programme outline

At the heart of the Humber Teaching School's vision is the drive, determination and passion to improve outcomes and the learning experience for young people across Yorkshire and the Humber. The Humber Teaching School have a wealth of experience and success in achieving maximum growth of, and effectively nurturing, colleagues new to the teaching profession.

Our highly successful programme covers all integral aspects of an NQT's development which are matched against the Early Careers framework and the Teacher Standards, as well as offering high-quality CPD delivered by some of the best teachers and leaders across the region and beyond. The programme also includes a full NQT assessment package that ensures NQT's are fully supported during this very important developmental year.

Alongside the core offer, we are delighted to offer colleagues whom choose the full NQT package exclusive access to The National College online CPD package. This gives access to a wide variety of online training sessions and courses that will allow participants to further enhance their own pedagogy and practice.
